

About Marie Moran & Company, LLC

Marie Moran & Company, LLC (MMCo) is a leadership development consultancy and training firm. Founded in 2002 and based in Southern California, we are renowned for bringing deep and lasting change to individuals and organizations. Our clients represent Fortune 100 companies and government agencies across the US and globally. Known for our expertise in leadership development, executive presence and communication skills, we offer both in-house initiatives and open enrollment events in the areas of Executive Presence, Women in Leadership, Presentation Skills, and Global Team Management/Cross-Cultural Communication. Clients often describe our work as “life changing” and “transformational.”

Led by Founder and Managing Partner Marie Moran, our consultants, presenters and client relationship team members have decades of experience assisting clients, from top leaders to front-line personnel. MMCo's collective talent includes C-Suite corporate executives, workshop presenters with live theater and entertainment backgrounds, Adjunct Faculty with clinical health care credentials, and global executive level consultants who possess both business savvy and entrepreneurial prowess.

CLIENT COMMENTS

“MMCo has partnered with me in several organizations over the years to make a lasting, significant impact on our critical talent’s ability to communicate and influence in meaningful ways. MMCo’s work has become an important part of growing our internal talent to become leaders in the business!”

Janet C., VP, Human Resources
Experian

“Attending the Power of Your Presence Workshop changed my life. The tools and techniques are powerful, practical, easy to use and very sustainable. This is not a bookshelf seminar that is easily forgotten – it really makes a difference.”

A. Vasquez, Director of Operations
National Restaurant Chain

“One-on-One coaching from MMCo consultants has improved my working relationships immensely. I have earned respect and accolades from my boss, peers and direct reports, who have noticed a measurable difference. They have helped me polish the rough edges and jumpstart my career by equipping me with tools and techniques to achieve results I want – with class and ultimate professionalism.”
